

Agreement on "Technical Services for Mineral Exploration"

Introduction

This service includes the process of conducting studies, field surveys and providing information related to technical services for mineral exploration using experts and up-to-date hardware and software systems. The output of this service includes maps, reports, analyses and introduction of promising areas.

Goal

The purpose of this agreement is to agree on the quality of delivery of technical services for mineral exploration for all public audiences, experts, investors, government, private companies, cooperatives, etc., in order to provide the quality of service provided by the Geological Survey of Iran.

This service includes the following sub-services, which will be provided in accordance with the request of the service recipients:

Responsibility

Based on this agreement between the Management and Planning Organization and Geological survey of Iran, Geological survey of Iran has a legal responsibility towards the citizen requesting the service .

The Geological survey of Iran has the license to create the earth science museum services to applicants. The documentation of which is available

Mutual obligations between Service user and Geological survey of Iran

Service recipient's obligations

The service recipient has full authority to reject or accept the schedule of work outside the service recipient's location from the company, and in the event of rejection of the schedule, the company has no right to object and is required to prepare and present its schedules in a way that satisfies the service recipient's opinion. Also, if work is done outside the service recipient's location but its schedule has not been announced, the time spent on that work by the service recipient is not acceptable.

The service recipient will have the right to terminate this contract at any time. If, for reasons other than those mentioned in this article, the Service Recipient decides to terminate this contract, this decision must be notified to the Company at least seven (7) days before the intended date of termination of the contract, and the Company will be entitled to receive the fee for services performed up to the date of termination of the contract after deducting the amounts previously paid in this regard.

Organization's obligations

The Organization undertakes to resolve any problems in the project and a written notification from the Service Recipient (registration in the software system, fax, telephone or e-mail) in the shortest possible time based on the definitions below. Otherwise, the Service Recipient may, in accordance with the compensation clause of this contract, take action to fine the Company.

If, after paying the costs of this service and completing the forms and submitting them to this organization, the applicant is unable to receive his license within the stipulated time, which is 10 working days, the Organization will pay the applicant compensation equivalent to rials for each day of unjustified delay.

The items related to the form "Service Information to be Provided on the Portal of the Iranian Geological survey of Iran " are mentioned in detail in relation to the time of service, the number of times the applicant visits in person, the method of access and access times to the service, and all details of the service are stated by the organization in a binding manner.

Costs and Payments

The cost of projects varies greatly depending on factors such as the size of the area, duration, having or not being responsible for drilling boreholes, restrictions and requests of the service recipient, and requires consultation.

Performance Period

This Agreement is valid for up to one year and is signed by the organization's director.

This Agreement is valid until the end of the agreement date, when it is signed by mutual agreement of both organizations.

In necessary cases, a new Agreement will be created and signed one month after the end of this Agreement to continue providing services.

Termination of the Agreement

If the Company has not provided the technical, scientific and organizational factors necessary to perform the duties of this contract on time, or does not exercise the necessary and usual care in performing its duties and services, or if, at the discretion of the Service Recipient, the relevant work is delayed by one-quarter of the period of performance of the contract services due to the Company's negligence or fault, or if the interests of the Service Recipient are not taken into account and the observance of impartiality and impartiality is not complete, or if the Company generally does not comply with all or part of the provisions of this contract; the Service Recipient will notify the Company to eliminate the deficiencies and disadvantages of its work, and the Company is obliged to eliminate the aforementioned deficiencies and disadvantages within a period that in any case should not exceed seven (7) days. If at the end of the said period the Company has not acted in accordance with the notice of the Service User or if it is convicted of a criminal offence due to some unprofessional actions, the Service User shall have the right to terminate this contract by written notice without the need to carry out any special formalities or refer to the courts of the country. In such case, the Service User shall not pay any amount to the Company and the Company shall not have the right to claim any other funds.